

Fictional Client Profile

(Educational simulation — not a real person, organization, or transaction.)

Client: Career Compass Club (student-run school club) Contact: Priya Alvarez, Faculty Advisor About: Career Compass Club helps students explore career paths through guest speakers, job-shadow days, and a small resource library. The club has ~40 active members and meets weekly.

Their Problem: The club currently shares updates through a group chat and paper flyers. Members keep missing events, and new students don't know the club exists. Priya wants a simple, single web page the club can point people to.

Goals: - One clear page describing what the club does and how to join - A list of upcoming events that's easy to update - A way for interested students to express interest (a simple form or email link)

Constraints: - No budget for paid tools — must use free hosting (ties directly to the Course 16 GitHub/Vercel deployment skills) - Priya is not technical and will need simple, non-technical handoff instructions - Needs a first version within 2 weeks of the initial ask

Tone: Friendly, a little busy, appreciative but direct about what she needs.
