

Worksheet: Presence Beyond LinkedIn

Use this worksheet to plan how you'll strengthen your professional presence using channels beyond LinkedIn. Remember: your portfolio site is your foundation, and every other channel should reinforce it, not replace it.

Filled Example: Alex T., age 15 (portfolio-first)

Channel	Why it fits me	Next action
Portfolio site (primary)	I already have real projects built (chess-timer app, shelter sign-up page) — this is where all my proof lives	Add a "Notes" section with 2 entries this week
School showcase / competition	My school runs a community-impact tech fair every fall, and my shelter project fits the theme	Submit the shelter sign-up project to the tech fair by Sept 20
Community project board	My class already uses a shared GitHub organization for projects	Upload both projects to the class GitHub org by this Friday

Reflection (Alex's example): "My portfolio site shows what I've built, but on its own it's just my word. Getting the shelter project into the school tech fair means someone else — the judges — will vouch for it too, and putting it on the class GitHub means my teacher and classmates can find it without me sending a link. Each channel backs up the others: the site is the proof, the showcase is the outside recognition, and the project board makes it easy for people at school to actually see it."

Your Turn

Step 1: Channel-Selection Table

Pick your primary channel (usually your portfolio site) and two supporting channels you'll strengthen. Fill in the table below.

Channel	Why it fits me	Next action (with a date)

Step 2: Reflection

In 3–5 sentences, describe how the channels you picked reinforce each other. Consider: - What does your portfolio site prove that other channels can't? - What does a school showcase, competition, or community board add that your site alone can't (outside recognition, easier discovery, a specific audience)? - How will someone evaluating you experience these channels together, rather than as separate, unconnected pieces?

Step 3: Commitment Check

- ☐ I have added or updated my content/notes section on my portfolio site with at least 2 real entries.
- ☐ I have identified two supporting channels beyond my portfolio site.
- ☐ Each next action above has a specific date, not "sometime" or "eventually."
- ☐ I can explain, in my own words, why this presence is credible without LinkedIn.
